fied that although the Westchester could not be a paying proposition for a time yet he foresaw that it would serve to relieve he commuters' congestion at the Grand Central by feeding into the rapid transit system of the city. This would relieve the New Haven of a vast expanse because of the cost of bringing passengers into the terminal. "It cost more than the gross receipts to bring commuters into the Grand Central," he said. R. L. Batts at Frank M. Swacker, Special Assistant Attorney-Generals, tried to get into the evidence ancient charters of New York and Connecticut, but failed. When Mr. Mellen testified freely before the Interstate Commerce Commission he gave sensational evidence as to mysterious due bills and extra costs witch the Government representatives would like to clear up The case will continue this morning at 10:80 o'clock.

BIG WABASH-PITTSBURG GAINS. New Interest Stirred in Plan for Reorganization.

new interest has been created in the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal Rail-way reorganization plan by the steps recently taken by Sutro Brothers & Co., H. P. Goldschmidt & Co., and other cankers to form a syndicate to underwrite the assessments on the first mort-gage bonds of the company.

The financial conditions prevailing when the plan was first announced pre-vented a complete response, but the general situation is now much more favor able and the earnings of the property are increasing rapidly. The October gross was not only largely in excess of September, but showed a gain of 40.77 per cent. over the same month last year. Net earnings increased 95.14 per cent. over October, 1914, while the first three

It is understood that similar advances have been made at other centres, such as Pittsburg and Chicago. An unusually active demand has been experienced by the warehouses, indicating that some contractors who took on work several months ago and failed to cover requirements are now urgently in the market. The prices, of course, refer to standard shapes. There were reports yesterday that the nominal mill price on standard sections had been advanced to 1.80c, by some companies. The minimum on Bethiehem sections was reported to be 1.70c, base.

The earnings of the Pennsylvania system for the month of October and for the ten months ended October 31 show a considerable improvement when compared with the earnings in corresponding periods in 1914. The railway operating income of the lines east and west of Pittsburg in the month of October was $70,-852,055, an increase of $11,538,883 over the corresponding ten months of 1914.

The total operating revenue of the lines east and west of Pittsburg for October was $36,204,993, a gain of $5,248,191, while in the ten months period the total operating revenues amounted to $304,422,133, an increase of $4,367,781.
